

Dear Friends

Bring the champagne! Here is the long promised newsletter for all my dear and faithful clients!

I realize there is a newsletter around every corner to catch your attention but I do want you to understand that this is a letter to send information that you can actually use. It is about time that I spoil you with some special prizes, discounts, new product information, a little of myself and more!

So, see this new post in your inbox as your "me time", "down-time", "about time"... our time!

Out of my 'blog' or 'soul-scrubbing' you might find a message that can help or uplift you... and if words don't do it for you, I am confident that my products and hands will do the trick!

A little more about myself.

After my release at Paulsmoor, I had some time to reflect on my life... No, just kidding, on a serious note ... I am a born Namibian, all the way from Aranos. Yes, a proud farm girl! My love for people comes from my father, Schalk, and my ability to listen from my mother, Liesie. I have 2 sisters, one older, Letitea, one younger, Christelle. (middle-child!)

My goal and passion in life has always been to make people laugh from within and without, so I decided to study at ISA CARSTENS HEALTH AND SKINCARE ACADEMY for two years and then finished a year of Fashion Photography Hair and Make-Up Artistry in Cape Town.

In 2004 I started with bridal hair and make-up to build up a portfolio for when I come back from the cruise liners (my dream as a therapist) In 2005, Herbalife crossed my path and I began attending their business trainings. I also did treatments in my apartment room and Bridal Makeup and Hair on weekends. Two years went by, the business grew and I decided to move Madeleen Health and Beauty Studio to bigger and more professional premises, Welgevonden estate. Needless to say, the cruise liners never saw me, although it felt as if I was swimming in the deep ocean (running business, admin, tax etc.) This is my life in a nutshell!

I look forward to spend more time with you - Inside and outside this screen! Please send me questions about products or articles you've read recently or just anything you want to talk about in this newsletter.

Until next time!

Soul-Scrub

Life responds to deserve and not to need.

It doesn't say, if you need, you will reap.

It says if you plant you will reap. If you want to reap you need to plant!
